History of the College

Nandyal is one of the important towns in Rayalaseema region. This town is an abode of Nine Nandis and attained significance since ancient times. People from all over the country visit this town to reach Mahanandi where one of the prominent nandis is located. During the past two decades Nandyal witnessed rapid growth in the field of education, agriculture and industry.

In order to provide higher education to the people of this place and adjoining villages a few philanthropists like Sri. Pasapula Subbarayudu Chetty and Kasetty Venkata Subbaiah Chetty came forward with donations and established this College in the year 1967. In the beginning Pre-University Courses like M.P.C, Bi.P.C. C.E.C, H.E.C, and U.G Courses like B.A, B.Com, & B.Sc., were offered. This college is named after Sri Pasapula Venkata Subbaiah Chetty and Kasetty Venkata Subbaiah Chetty in due acknowledgment of their significant donations.

Due to lack of accommodation, this institution was housed in E.S.C. Govt. Polytechnic, Nandyal and in the year 1979 it was completely shifted to its own buildings near Bommalasathram. The college building was inaugurated by late Sri Neelam Sanjeeva Reddy, the President of India.

Since 1969 the college has been offering two year Intermediate Courses up to 1995-96 along with B.Sc. (M.P.C & B.Z.C.), B.A. & B.Com., Courses in Telugu Medium only.
